PLAINTIFFS' MOTION FOR LEAVE TO FILE A BRIEF SUR-REPLY IN OPPOSITION TO DEFENDANT BLACKWELL'S RESPONSE [ECF 23]
IN SUPPORT OF HER MOTION TO DISMISS FOR LACK OF PERSONAL JURISDICTION

Plaintiffs, by counsel, respectfully file this Motion for Leave to File a Sur-Reply in Opposition to Blackwell's Response, ECF 23, in Support of Motion to Dismiss for Lack of Personal Jurisdiction.

Defendant Blackwell's Motion to Dismiss for Lack of Personal Jurisdiction was filed and briefed on the contention that the "only way that this Court can exercise personal jurisdiction" over Blackwell under Virginia law is Va. Code §8.01-328.1 A.3: "Causing tortious injury by an act or omission in this Commonwealth." ECF 11 p.1.

Plaintiffs' Opposition, ECF 21 focused on the provision in the Virginia Long Arm

Statute that covers interests in real property, because defendant had a beneficial interest<sup>1</sup> in real property before the death of her stepfather and then a vested interest in real property after the death of her stepfather under §8.01-328.1 A.6: “Having an interest in, using, or possessing real property in this Commonwealth.”

Plaintiffs also contend that this Court has jurisdiction under Section A 3 of the Long Arm statute for causing tortious injury, particularly as regards a “responsible person” (defendant) who neglects or abuses a “vulnerable person” (decendent Ferguson) under the circumstances described in the complaint.

Blackwell’s Response to Plaintiffs’ Opposition, ECF 23, sets out her specific challenges to the application of §8.01-328.1. A 6 for the first time and denying that any activity identified by the Fergusons is sufficient to find personal jurisdiction.

Based on the facts alleged in the complaint, a jury may reasonably infer that the purpose for Blackwell’s visit was to assess the status of her beneficial interest in the real properties in Wytheville area as well as to transport Mr. Ferguson to Pennsylvania.

Following his death, Blackwell and her sister purposely availed themselves of the privileges of seeking the judicial power of the state by filing litigation in the Circuit Court of Wythe County, Virginia against Plaintiff Vira Ferguson. ECF 6-1. They sought various protections for their vested ownership interests in both personal and real

A. In this section, "estate, trust, or other beneficial interest" means a trust, probate estate, guardianship, conservatorship, escrow, or custodianship or a fund from which the principal is, may become, or claims to be entitled to a share or payment.

property in the Ferguson Estate. Id. These actions are encompassed by both sections A1 (transacting business) and A6 (having an interest in, using, or possessing real property) in this Commonwealth. These actions also serve the specific interests contemplated by the Long Arm statute:

The purpose of the Virginia long-arm statute is to extend jurisdiction to the extent permissible under the due process clause. Danville Plywood Corp. v. Plain & Fancy Kitchens, Inc., 218 Va. 533, 238 S.E.2d 800, 802 (1977); Kolbe v. Chromodern Chair Co., Inc., 211 Va. 736, 740, 180 S.E.2d 664, 667 (1971).

Under subsection (A)(1) of the long-arm statute, "a single act by a nonresident which amounts to 'transacting business' in Virginia and gives rise to a cause of action may be sufficient to confer jurisdiction upon [Virginia] courts." Danville Plywood, 238 S.E.2d at 802. English & Smith v. Metzger, 901 F.2d 36 (4th Cir. 1990).

While only 1 act is required, the conducting of business activities within the state (A 1) with respect to both the activities prior to the demise of the decedent and seeking court intervention thereafter are sufficient “minimum” contacts for this Court’s personal jurisdiction over Blackwell. The Plaintiffs’ claim arises out of “forum related activities” that occurred in the Commonwealth and the Va. Long Arm Statute coincides with the limitations imposed by the Fourteenth Amendment. Young v. New Haven Advoc., 315 F.3d 256, 261 (4th Cir. 2002). The maintenance of this suit does not offend “traditional notions of fair play and substantial justice” under any of the referenced sections of the Long Arm Statute.

By this motion Plaintiffs seek a brief opportunity to address Blackwell’s arguments opposing application of 8.01-328.1 to Blackwell's activities identified by Plaintiffs.

For these reasons, Plaintiffs respectfully ask that this motion seeking leave to file a brief Sur-Reply be granted. Plaintiffs request oral argument on Blackwell's Motion to Dismiss.
